Neighborhood Church cordially invites the public to meet Daniel Shayesteh

Dr. Daniel Shayesteh, director of the inter-denominational organization “Exodus from Darkness” and a National Evangelist for the Christian and Missionary Alliance of Australia, will be speaking at Neighborhood Church, 263 Texas Avenue, Bangor on September 11 and 12, 2010. Dr. Shayesteh was also a part time lecturer in International Business at the University of Technology Sydney for eight years.

Dr. Shayesteh was deeply involved in the Iranian Fundamentalist Revolution as a leading Muslim political leader and teacher of Islam and religious philosophy. After falling out of favor with Khomeini’s political group, he escaped to Turkey, where he became a Christian. In 1994, he commenced studies at Morling Bible College and completed the Diploma of Theology and Pastoral Ministry.

On Saturday, September 11, Dr. Shayesteh will be conducting seminars from 9 am until 3:30 pm, including Basics of Islam, Unveiling the Nature of Islam, and Conversational Evangelism. On Sunday, September 12 at 10:30 am, Dr. Shayesteh will be sharing his life’s story entitled “The Journey of a Radical Muslim to Christ”.

If you have questions or need more information, you can visit Dr. Shayesteh’s website at www.exodusfromdarkness.org or call Neighborhood Church at 945-9937.
